

FAMILY TRAIL

Have an exciting family-time and experience Art Night in four key locations on this summer evening!

6.30 – 7.00pm Duke of York Steps by the ICA

After an afternoon in St James's Park, head over to the Duke of York Steps near the ICA at 6.30pm where you can catch artist and choreographer Linder's contemporary fairy tale. Let your little ones join in the fun as ballroom and tap dancers respond to music from The Fourth Choir and The Raj Academy.

7.30 – 8pm Covent Garden East Piazza

From the Mall you can easily walk to Covent Garden, simply cross Trafalgar Square, head along The Strand and turn left up Southampton Street.

In the East Piazza you can find a video installation by dance artist Cecilia Bengolea. Projected onto the Market's mirrored facade Bengolea's work marries Jamaican dancehall with classical ballet.

8 – 8.30pm Covent Garden West Piazza

After checking out the projections head around to the front of the Market where Bengolea will be holding a dance workshop between 8 and 9pm.

8.30 – 9pm Covent Garden's Apple Market

Inside the Apple Market you can take part in Jennifer West's latest film project. By writing and drawing your memories onto reels of 70mm film you will be contributing to a communal artwork!

Whilst you're at Covent Garden you'll find plenty of restaurants and cafes to have a meal or pick up something to eat.

9.30 – 10pm St Mary le Strand

Leave Covent Garden by taking Russell Street and a right onto Wellington Street, you'll find yourself back at The Strand. First, take a left and continue along to St Mary le Strand, a small baroque church nestled on a traffic island, where Jennifer West's Film Title Poem is screening.

10 – 10.30pm Somerset House

Next, across the road you will be in time to catch the last performance of Xu Zhen's Physique of Consciousness produced by MadIn Company, a sensational action-performance bringing hundreds of participants together to act in unison, repeating movements derived from dance, gymnastics, exercise and spiritual rituals.

Afterwards, getting home is easy. You can hop on the tube from Temple (District and Circle), head back up to Covent Garden (Piccadilly), or along The Strand to Charing Cross (Bakerloo and Northern), or go North to Holborn (Central). For National Rail, Charing Cross and Blackfriars are also within walking distance.
